SOLID WASTE COLLECTION COMPANIES END OF YEAR PERMIT PROCESS

Chapter 109 of the Code of Fairfax County currently requires all collection permits to end on June 30 annually. New Fiscal Year 2007 permits must be on vehicles before they can use County disposal facilities on July 1, 2006.

This advisory asks the cooperation of all collection companies to complete your FY2007 permits as soon as possible. To date only a few collection companies have completed the entire permitting process that includes: completion of truck inspections and the permit application, presentation of an appropriate bond, and payment of permit fees.

This information and the permit application were sent to all companies in early May.

Should a collection company not have its permit application completed, including fees paid by July 1, 2006, loads will be charged at $57 per ton for all materials until such time as the FY2007 Permit process is completed.

Companies that have not completed the FY2007 permit process by July 14, 2006, will not be able to legally provide collection service in Fairfax County and will not be able to dispose at County facilities.

Reminder: This year new permit plates are being issued to collection companies. The new plates can be used on the appropriate vehicles beginning now; there is no reason to wait to change out the old plates for the new ones. Fairfax County requires the old plates to be returned to a County disposal facility. If old plates are not returned, a fee of $10 per plate will be assessed to the account on the July invoice, which will be produced on August 3, 2006.

Should you have questions concerning this advisory, please contact me or Linda Boone at 703-324-5230.
